

Grip-Birkman

Many Christians have a difficult time moving beyond their own individualized priorities into meaningful community and missional living. Some Christians have yet to know that God has given them unique gifts to help strengthen the body of Christ and serve Christ's priorities in the world. The Grip-Birkman is a powerful tool that helps believers understand how they have been uniquely wired to serve God's mission. It combines two assessments that enable people to discover, develop and deploy their unique leadership gifts and build stronger teams. By providing a better understanding of the intersection between spiritual gifts, personality and needs, the Grip-Birkman empowers people to thrive, and allows them to become more fully engaged in life, ministry and mission.

To learn more about how this resource can help your church grow stronger for mission, contact your Conference Vitality Leader.