

THE GIFT OF

GOATS

2026 COVENANT CAMP PROJECT: GOATS IN HAITI AND INDIA

Across our global partnerships, livestock projects provide both immediate and lasting impact.

Animals provide nutrition through milk, eggs, and meat and create income through breeding, sales, and agricultural support such as manure for crops.

“Suppose a brother or a sister is without clothes and daily food. If one of you says to them, ‘Go in peace; keep warm and well fed,’ but does nothing about their physical needs, what good is it?”

JAMES 2:15-16

GOAT FUN FACTS

Goats love shelters that are slightly elevated off the ground—and they'll even climb on top of them if they can!

A goat can drink up to five gallons of water a day in hot weather.

Female goats can give birth once or twice a year to multiple kids at a time.

Baby goats are called “kids”—just like campers!

WHY GOATS?

Nutrition for Children

Goats provide a steady supply of milk and cheese, supporting healthy growth and development.

WHY GOATS?

Income and Education

Families can sell goats or their offspring to generate income, often helping pay school fees and meet essential household needs.

WHY GOATS?

Sustainable Farming

Goat manure enriches the soil, improving crop yields and strengthening local food systems.

WHY GOATS?

Skills and Small Business Growth

Families gain training in animal husbandry and basic business skills, building long-term stability.

WHY GOATS?

Women's Empowerment

Access to livestock often increases women's economic participation and leadership within the household and community.

WHY GOATS?

Multiplying Impact

Through a “pay it forward” model, the first offspring is given to another family—spreading opportunity, strengthening relationships, and building resilient communities.

Caring for animals is also a way of caring for God's creation.

- Goats help families work the land responsibly.
- Manure improves soil instead of harming it.
- Families learn stewardship—taking care of what God has provided.

GOATS & FAITH

Goats appear more than 170 times throughout the Bible and were important animals for daily life, food, and religious rituals.

BEAUTIFUL LANDSCAPES: Haiti has mountains, beaches, and tropical forests that make the country unique and full of natural beauty.

VIBRANT CULTURE: Haitians celebrate with colorful art, music, and dance, including compas music and the lively Haitian Carnival.

CHALLENGES TODAY: Haiti has faced political unrest, gang violence, and disruptions to daily life, making community support and programs like CWRD's food and goat projects more important than ever.

From Zero Income to Sustainable Livelihood Through Goat Breeding

Across multiple rural communities in La Victoire, families who previously had no steady income received female goats along with training in animal husbandry and agroecology. Each household began earning $100–$150 annually through goat breeding and sales—an enormous shift in communities where families had previously earned nothing.

FAMOUS LANDMARKS: The Taj Mahal, the Himalayan mountains, and the colorful palaces and forts of Rajasthan.

INCREDIBLE WILDLIFE: Home to tigers, elephants, peacocks, and rhinos, as well as unique ecosystems from mountains to tropical forests.

CHALLENGES TODAY: Faces ongoing issues due to poverty, natural disasters, and limited resources in some rural communities, making programs like CWRD's goat and animal husbandry projects important for families' livelihoods.

Dignity and Stability Trough One Goat

Janaki received a goat through the Hindustani Covenant Church animal husbandry project. The goat soon gave birth, multiplying her assets. Through selling manure and planning future goat sales, Janaki moved from wage insecurity toward a stable, self-managed livelihood—demonstrating how a single goat can restore dignity and economic independence.
